

HeartSine samaritan® PAD

Public Access Defibrillator

Be Prepared for Cardiac Emergencies Without Impacting Your Bottom Line

With the high risk of sudden cardiac arrest (SCA), immediate access to an Automated External Defibrillator (AED) is now the expected standard of care in an assisted living facility – for your patients, visitors, vendors and staff. But how can you meet these expectations without decreasing your bottom line?

Not all AEDs are created equal. The HeartSine® samaritan® PAD surpasses all others as it uniquely combines clinically advanced technology with the lowest cost of ownership on the market. And it's all available in a simple-to-use package that carries an industry-leading 10 year warranty, with flexible finance and program management options.

You have a choice of AEDs for all of your facilities, so you should choose the AED that protects not only your employees and visitors, but your bottom line as well.
